Baby Raiders Small, Quick

The Appomattox Junior Varsity Raiders under the head coaching of Cody Dickerson will be opening their 1974-75 basketball season against Jefferson Forest at the Appomattox Middle School Gymn Nov. 26 at 4:30 p.m. Dickerson says his team lacks physical size compared to last year's team which finished with a 12-8 record. "I'm really not expecting to do as well this season because my team is so inexperienced this year, perhaps this is the most inexperience team I've ever coached. I've only three players back with me this year from last season and definitely these three will be the men I'll be depending on to get us through this season.

Bill Shorter, Jeff Puryear and Danny Carson are the returning ball players who will lead the Baby Raiders this year. Shorter, a 6'2" sophomore who will be playing forward and should be very effective under the boards. He's very aggressive and tough inside. Jeff Puryear, a 5'10" sophomore who will be playing guard and will be brining the ball up court for us. He has good ball control, is a good outside shooter, and is tough on defense, too.

Danny Carson, who will be playing both guard and forward will be tough this year. Carson is fairly big at 5'10", has an excellent outside shot and can bring the ball up court with ease. He will be the man we go to in clutch situations.

Another sophomore 5'9" William (Boo-Boo) Trent is another good prospect. He showed good potential in the scrimmage game against Cumberland last Thursday night by scoring 26 points.

Freshmen Tommy Goode, Ronnie Preston and Gerald Booker will be seeing a lot of action this year. These three players will be a great asset to the team.

Some added strength to the Raiders will be Ronald Harvey who showed a lot in the scrimmage game by scoring 10 points. His brother, Donald Harvey, has great hustle on the court and gives 150 percent all the time. The two will help the team this year as will sophomores, Tony Ferguson and Tony Snell, who will add to the inside strength the Baby Raiders.

The team this year will be playing fundamental basketball, with hustle, effort and teamwork. This is one thing Dickerson. Stresses most.

Practices have been going well well during the pre-season. The team is working hard trying to learn everything they need to know by time the season starts. With the attitude the team has we could beat anybody. Dickerson says, "We are going to play them one by one and just hope for the best, but come Tuesday my players are gonna be ready to play anybody . . . anybody."

America's Favorite Sandwich

A nickel's worth of peanut butter makes a mighty good sa

In today's world of burgeoning food prices, the best fo for grocery shopping is to buy the most nutrition for fe money.

Peanut butter is one of the most nutritionally valuabl in daily use today by the American public. According to Department of Agriculture analysis of commonly consumed foods, peanut butter ranks near the top in protein. Peanut butter is 26 percent protein—a percentage higher than eggs, dairy products and other traditional protein foods.

And peanut butter is a very low-cost form of protein. Two tablespoons of the spread make a generous sandwich and cost only about five cents (based on price of an average-size jar). Large families could take advantage of three, four or five-pound jars which bring the cost per serving even lower.

A plain peanut butter sandwich will always enjoy great popularity, but the flavor of the spread combines well with many other foods. Peanut butter and jelly is the best-loved combination, but peanut butter and honey or peanut butter and banana slices, are also popular.

Either plain or peanut butter combination sandwiches can be grilled with great success. Just prepare a sandwich in the usual way, close the sandwich and spread the outside of the slices with butter or margarine. Grill on both sides until toasty brown. It's fragrant, delicious, and satisfying as only a hot sandwich can be.

For the ultimate in a peanut butter sandwich, try French-toasting it. The result is a hearty sandwich — perfect anytime — for brunch, lunch or hi per. To prepare, di sides of a plain or peanut butter sa into the standard mixture used for toast, and fry on boi

Here are additional butter combination wiches which include usually on hand in refrigerator:

—On a slice of bread generously with peanut ter, place two slices ripe tomatoes. Spread other slice of bread w ter and add a tables chopped green onions

—Combine peanut thinly sliced salami, sliced onion on rye br dash of mustard can be if desired.

—Peanut butter, hard cooked eggs, an onnaise with crisp let an excellent trio. S generously with salt an ground pepper.

—Spread chunk sty nut butter on raisin Place a thin slice of t the peanut butter an with a slice of butter bread.

—Sprinkle chopped and chopped olives on butter spread on whole bread. To finish the san add a slice of butter wheat bread.

Art Club Report

The ACHS Art Club held its monthly meeting on November 20th, 1974. The president called the meeting to order. We did several things at this meeting. They had to elect a new secretary, who is now Rita Booker. Then we had to elect a SCA Club representative for our club. The representative is Lisa Mitchell. We got in our committees. We want to start the New Year out right with possibly a dance for the student body.

During the past month the club had its picture taken for the 1975 Annual.
